CHARACTERISTICS OF THE PERCHERON HORSE

General:

The Australian Percheron is essentially a heavy 'cold blood' horse, possessing great muscular development and ample bone of good quality, combined with style and activity, giving a general impression of refinement, balance and power.

Colour:

Grey or black with a minimum of white. No other colour in stallions is eligible for entry in the stud book. Skin and coat should be of a fine quality.

Size and Weight:

The Percheron is of low draught, having a short compact body of tremendous depth, with quarters of outstanding size. Over emphasis in size and weight at the expense of balance, character and soundness should be avoided.

Head:

Wide across the eyes, which should be full and docile, ears medium in size and erect; deep cheek, curved on lower side, not long from eye to nose, intelligent expression.

Body:

Strong neck, not short, full arched crest in case of stallions, wide chest, deep well-laid shoulders, back strong and short, ribs wide and deep, deep at flank, hind quarters of exceptional width and long from hip to tail, avoiding any suggestion of goose rump.

Limbs:

Strong forearms and full second thighs, big knees and broad hocks; heavy flat bone, short cannons, pasterns of medium length, feet of reasonable size, of good quality hard blue horn. Limbs as clean and free from 'feather' as possible.

Action:

Action is the essence of the Percheron. The walk is characterised by a long aggressive smooth and true stride. This shows determination and willingness. All joints should flex adequately, the hocks must be kept well together and under control while the feet should be picked up with a reasonable degree of snap, carried forward in a straight line and then placed squarely on the ground. Action at a trot should show the proper length, aggressiveness, trueness and smoothness of stride that is characteristic of efficiency.

Temperament:

Kind and docile with intelligent alertness and animated spirit, showing no sign of sluggishness or dullness. The Percheron has the ability to work and maintain condition because of its strong constitution and good temperament, which denotes an almost complete lack of nervous tension.

At the Special General meeting of the 8th Dec 2018 it was agreed that progeny of a Stud Book F mated to a Purebred A, of good breeding, of heavy draught horse type and which meet the breed standards outlined in the association rules, may be considered by application to the Committee for grading up to Purebred.

NOTE; For full and detailed explanations of the information provided please refer to the current PHBAA Rule book, or contact the Association.

PERCHERON WARMBLOOD

The following is the original definition upon which our association defined warmblood horses.

The Association has an additional Registration for Percheron Warmblood Horses derived from the mating of a Percheron (or Part Percheron parent) and a Thoroughbred, Arabian or Anglo/Arabian parent.

The definition of a Warmblood Horse is any horse bred from the mating of any Draught breed (Cold Blood) and any other Light Horse Breed (Hot Blood). Not a breed, but an admixture of two different combination genes.

The resulting progeny to be presented for Registration with supporting photographs, and may be Registered in the Appendix and Dual Registered.

At the Special General Meeting 12 Aug 2017, a new definition was agreed upon.

The following is our accepted definition for warmblood registration.

PERCHERON WARMBLOOD REGISTER

Horses that meet the following criteria may be eligible for entry into a Warmblood Register.

A male or female containing 25% or more Percheron content and 25% or more proven warmblood content.

Warmblood registration must be proven with a registered Warmblood Association or Society.

The Committee reserved the right to refuse registration if the selection criteria is not met.

PERCHERON PERFORMANCE HORSE

Horses that meet the following criteria may be considered for entry in the Performance Horse Register.

A Percheron cross with a light horse to produce a modern sports horse capable of competing in Olympic disciplines.

Application for entry into Register requires a submission of:

Proof of Percheron content, a minimum of 25%.

Photo of the horse submitted to the Committee.

Photos of both parents.

COLOUR

The standard colours of the breed are black and grey, with chestnut occasionally appearing due to the recessive red gene.

In this Association, chestnut horses have been placed separately in a Chestnut Register with a Double Hatch - # # - preceding their Prefix letter.

A Grey horse may be born any colour and will go Grey as it matures, with Dapple Grey being a transitory phase of the colour change.

A black based grey foal will be born coal black, usually with some small amount of white hairs visible in key areas, particularly around the eyes.

Black foals are born a smokey mousey colour with an absence of white hair in their coat. They are not born Black.

Only black or grey horses are eligible for Stallion registration as per the rules of the Association

NOTE; For full and detailed explanations of the information provided please refer to the current PHBAA Rule book, or contact the Association.

The foals above are black..

The foals below are grey.

EXPLANATORY

TO USE YOUR STUD BOOK:

Each section has an Alphabetical Listing of registered names which appear with their respective registration number, followed by a detailed List of Pedigrees in numerical order. Once you find the registered name and registration number in the alphabetical listing, go to the appropriate numerical listing to find the pedigree details for that animal.

These details include identification details such as brands, microchip numbers, colour and markings of the pedigreed animal, as well as the names and registration numbers of the Sire and Dam.

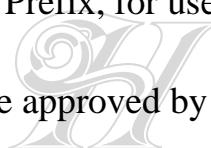

At the end of each section there is a list of transfers that have occurred during the period of this volume.

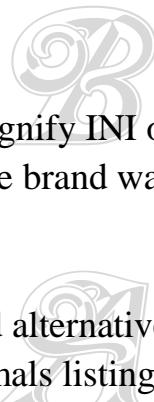

PREFIX:

Breeders are required to register a Prefix, for use exclusively to names of animals bred by that breeder.

Any variation to the above must be approved by the committee.

Registered Prefix and brands for this volume appear under the LIST OF PREFIXES AND BRANDS .

BRANDS:

Brands appearing as e.g. INI/89 signify INI over 89

Where brands are not recorded, the brand was not supplied or the animal was unbranded.

MICROCHIPS:

Microchipping is now an accepted alternative to branding and microchip numbers shall be recorded and displayed in the animals listing in the Stud Book.

STALLIONS:

Horses having completed their approved stallion registration requirements are marked with the notation STALLION.

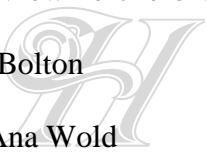

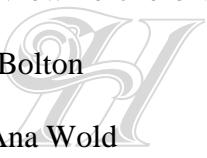

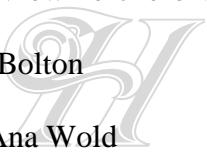

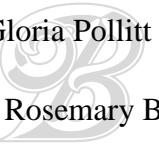

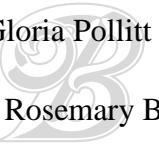

DNA:

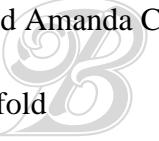

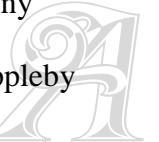

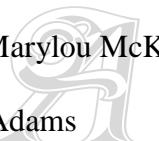

Effective 28JUL2002, all stallions must be DNA typed prior to registration of offspring .

Effective 27APR2013, each foal together with the Dam, if not already provided, to be DNA fingerprinted at the weaning of the foal.
